HONCHO PONCHO | LATE NIGHT

Honcho Poncho is a four-piece American alternative rock band from Seattle, Washington. They collectively weigh close to seven hundred pounds. Grown from northwest soil, these good-boys can provide a steady groove to your day or night. Permanently borrowing sounds from modern day crooners like Jeff Tweedy and Mark Kozelek and style from your estranged cousins closet, Honcho Poncho aims to keep your toes tapping and your heads bobbing as they fire you up and cool you down. Their self produced and recorded debut full length, "Late Night" was just released, November 25th.

---

"With Late Night, Honcho Poncho appears to have somehow gleaned some warmth from their dreary Seattle hometown. [...] Songs full of sunny, bubbling hooks tend to dominate, but laid between are more expansive, stormy tracks."

-Fiona Woodman, Contributing Writer for The Portland Mercury

"Late Night is a lush, joyous album. The melodies are positively addictive; as soon as the eight tracks end you just want to start them over, and drink them in again."

-Lily Myers, BUST Magazine, Author of forthcoming This Impossible Light

"I haven't listened to it yet, but I'm looking forward to it."

-John Stirratt of Wilco

Release Date: Nov 25th, 2016
